INTRODUCTION

We, the members of this annual staff, hope to bring you some of the brighter moments during the school year of 1951-52.

Under the able direction of Mrs. Young, the members of this staff have worked long and diligently and believe that we have profited by the knowledge we have gained. We hope that the yearbook editors of years to come will get as much out of their experiences as we have received from ours.

This annual has served as a proving ground for the cultivation of the many abilities of the senior class, as shown by the quality of this yearbook.

We hope that the train theme will put you on the right track for many long hours of enjoyment. We hope that in years to come you will receive as much pleasure from its contents as we have had in presenting it to you.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Seated: Betty Butcher, Shirley Domer. Standing: Richard Fye, Bob Schwitzgebel, Kenny McPeck.

So you're eager to hear the next chapter of our thrilling encounter with the seas of education? Well, I'm sorry, but you must have missed an episode, because that story is all finished. We sailed through Chapters Freshman and Sophomore with plenty of ambition and energy to move onward to meet the challenge of Junior.

Boarding the "No-Ca-Hi" train, we met those challenges and set a grand climax to Chapter Junior by sending our debate team, three of which are members of our class, to the national speech finals in California.

Hopping off our "No-Ca-Hi" train, we boarded a fast jet which got Chapter Senior off to a rip-roaring start with a highly successful football season, not to mention the Senior Class Play, which was hailed as one of the best these old walls have seen for quite some time. We had a little engine trouble, but our mechanics, Miss Bahler and Miss Bayer, smoothed out the bumps and kept us flying straight.

It's a shame you missed our last episode, because it was really the "blueberries." Packed with action right up to the very end, the Prom and Senior Night, together with all the hustle and bustle of graduation, brought the book to a most exciting climax. The story has been told again and again, but to us, as we lived it, it was a new and thrilling adventure.

And now we are ready to begin the second volume. The first chapter will be Commencement, which we feel is quite fitting, since it is the beginning. The world is waiting for us, and we shall go forth and prove what we can do. We have no fear of failure, except to fail to do our best. Someday, when your children bring home their history books, you will find the very chapters that we, the Class of '52, have written.—By Betty Butcher.

From baseball fields to basketball courts*

*In talents and skill

The Seniors hold their own.*

The Seniors have the brain supply.
With students who'll show flying colors
In any test they try.*

*Yes, we have students with a lot of brains
And those with not so many;
We have those with deep, driving ambition
And those who hardly have any.*

*We each have our flaws and our touches of perfection,
And the spirit to carry us through.
So, whether good or bad, there will always be memories
Of the Class of '52.*

Here the Juniors are working so very hard on their third jigsaw puzzle.

In our first year as Freshmen, we started working on a rather simple puzzle. When that one was finished, it was our Sophomore year and time for the second one. That puzzle has just been completed. We are finally Juniors and starting a harder one this year.

Let's put the border together first. Oh, look, some of the pieces resemble a chemistry book, an algebra problem, scholarship tests, and the tough American history book. Now we have the outline finished. We can try to put the pieces into place in the center of the puzzle. I will try this piece right here. I hope it fits. Say, isn't that a musical note? That makes me think of the Juniors in the musical organizations at N. C. Oh, that one that you have is like a football, and there is a number on it—13. Isn't 13 the number of our boys who played football? And there is one in the shape of a basketball. The boys did well in sports this year. The puzzle is making progress. It takes a lot of hard and continuous work. We must keep at our job. This piece is in the shape of an E, which goes right into the center of our puzzle. It portrays the word effort, which we all have put forth in selling Christmas candy and producing our class play, "The Inner Willy." There are just two pieces left, one in the shape of a boy and the other a girl. That makes me think of the biggest event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom which was held at the Shady Hollow Country Club. Putting the puzzle together wasn't as difficult as we expected it to be. What helped to make it a successful year was the advice we had from our sponsors, Mrs. Young and Mr. Schneider. As a Junior class, we wish to express our appreciation of all our teachers who have guided the Class of '53.—

1954

Last year we left the Class of '54 riding into the future with the Castle of Graduation as its goal. Before our journey was half way completed we had to venture through the Forest of Sophomore ruled by the three ogres, Plane Geometry, English, and Biology

As we journeyed on, a few new students found their way to us and joined our merry band.

We entered the forest with little fear, and what fears we did have were overcome by the guidance of Sir Sonnhalter and Sir Wright.

The first obstacle that lay in our path was the Freshman-Sophomore Party, which was conquered with skill and ease.

Our next obstacles were challenges from other schools in the lines of debate, music, and sports. We were triumphant in all fields and continued on our way.

The forest was becoming dense now and, after a tough struggle with first semester exams, in which some of us sustained a few injuries, we came upon a clearing. In this place we reinforced ourselves, polished our armor, and once again mounted our white chargers. The all high school play, athletic events, musical contests, and scholarship were all part of our past now.

Everyone felt the air of intensity around us as we neared the end of the forest and our last and greatest battle with the three ogres approached. Then, like a flash, it was over. The bloody battle was ended and the Class of '54 was again victorious. We lost a few knights and ladies on the way, but the Forest of Sophomore was behind us.

We have reached the half way point and are proud of our record.—Nancy Gardner.

CLASS OF 1955

Everybody fasten their gravity belts! All on board the Class of '55 Rocket Ship.

The stars are shining at the Freshman-Sophomore Party. We listen and hear some heavenly music from the band, orchestra, and glee clubs, to which many of our members belong. We also hear speeches and debates, but not so heavenly. But, listen! The constellation, "Leo, the Lion," is roaring from our boys in spirts. They really deserve it!

As our activities are well powered, we must put on our space (thinking) helmets, settle down to studies, and learn how to guide our rockets to our goal—GRADUATION.—Marjorie Shenk.

"EVERY FAMILY HAS ONE"

A Comedy by George Batson

This is the story of the Reardons—a typical American family whose eccentricities, though hilarious, are only normal. Laura, the mother, is a social climber who has engineered a match between her daughter, Marcia, and wealthy Sherwin Parker. Penelope, the youngest Reardon, is a demon with the slingshot and the piano. Worry, the only son, is positive he's the best thing that ever happened to the field of writing. Reginald, the father, loves to tinker but seldom accomplishes anything except destruction, and Nana, the wise-cracking grandmother, is concerned mainly with getting rid of the Parkers. Nana finally succeeds with the help of Cousin Lily, an adorable liar with stage aspirations, from down home. Lily's performance as the skeleton in the Reardon closet is so convincing that the Parkers take to their heels and Marcia is reunited with Todd, the boy she loves. Essie, the maid, is glad to be rid of the extra work, Laura settles down, and Worry decides that Cousin Lily is the girl for him.

This year the Juniors presented a comedy in three acts. It was a story about a boy raised by three domineering aunts. He never made any of his own decisions and always had to eat turnips and drink castor oil. Poppy and Mother Rose could never say 'no' to any homeless children, but, with outstretched arms, welcomed all to their Pumpkin Shell, which is a tiny summer cottage by the ocean. It was often hard to tell their own children from the strangers they took under their wing. The Rose family and the Teensters who found a home with them had adventures which are natural to all families. They had their arguments, their hobbies, and their laughs. Then, in the midst of their happy but hectic existence, tragedy came. Poppy, who had been overworking, succumbed to a heart attack. Financial difficulties then entered, but suddenly sunshine and good fortune came to end everything well at Pumpkin Shell.

Tantalizing odors and the sound of whirring sewing machines that issued from the Home Economics Department told us No-Ca-Hi has very fine future homemakers. In the coziest classroom of the school, these girls were brought to realize the problems involved in the making and keeping of a home and how to cope with them. Many have benefitted from the useful projects of these active groups.

The first year of No-Ca-His Student Council shows astounding success and a very promising future! Under the guidance of Miss DePodesta and Mr. Harrison, these students, representing the entire student body, delved and willingly sacrificed their time in making the school a better and more enjoyable institution. An understanding of the functionings of the school was brought closer to them as they dealt with and handled problems and projects. This organization can be proud of its first year and of its capable officers.

They have had the Bright Eyes Ball (which was new to us all), Spring Frolic, and they helped plan the Snowball. Debate in North Canton is rapidly become one of our outstanding extracurricular activities. Debate training not only creates in an individual better speaking ability but also a clearer understanding of the discussion topic. The district contest was held in Canton last year, state contest was held in Columbus, and the national competition at Los Angeles this summer, and the national tournament will be held at Boston University. The debate teams added to their record and to their trophies by placing second at Alliance High School, second at Canton South, and first at Hiram College. The varsity team was composed of Affirmative: Linda Swann and Bob Schwitzgebel, Negative: Gerald Duryee and Ralph Schwitzgebel.

This year 1952, the team won first place in the State of Ohio in the tournament held at Columbus.

VIKINGS 6 — TALLMADGE 6

Defending Champion North Canton was held to a tie as they failed to capitalize on numerous scoring opportunities in the final stanza.

VIKINGS 15 — MIDDLEBRANCH 7

The Vikings rolled to an easy victory over their arch rival—the Diamonds—but the visitors were able to eke out a tally in the closing minutes.

VIKINGS 13 — NORTON 6

Staving off two last quarter surges to within their own 10-yard stripe, the Vikings managed to come out victorious before a Dads' Day crowd.

VIKINGS 14 — LOUISVILLE 14

The Leopards had to push over a touchdown with less than a minute remaining to evade being the first Louisville team to lose to a Viking aggregation in five years.

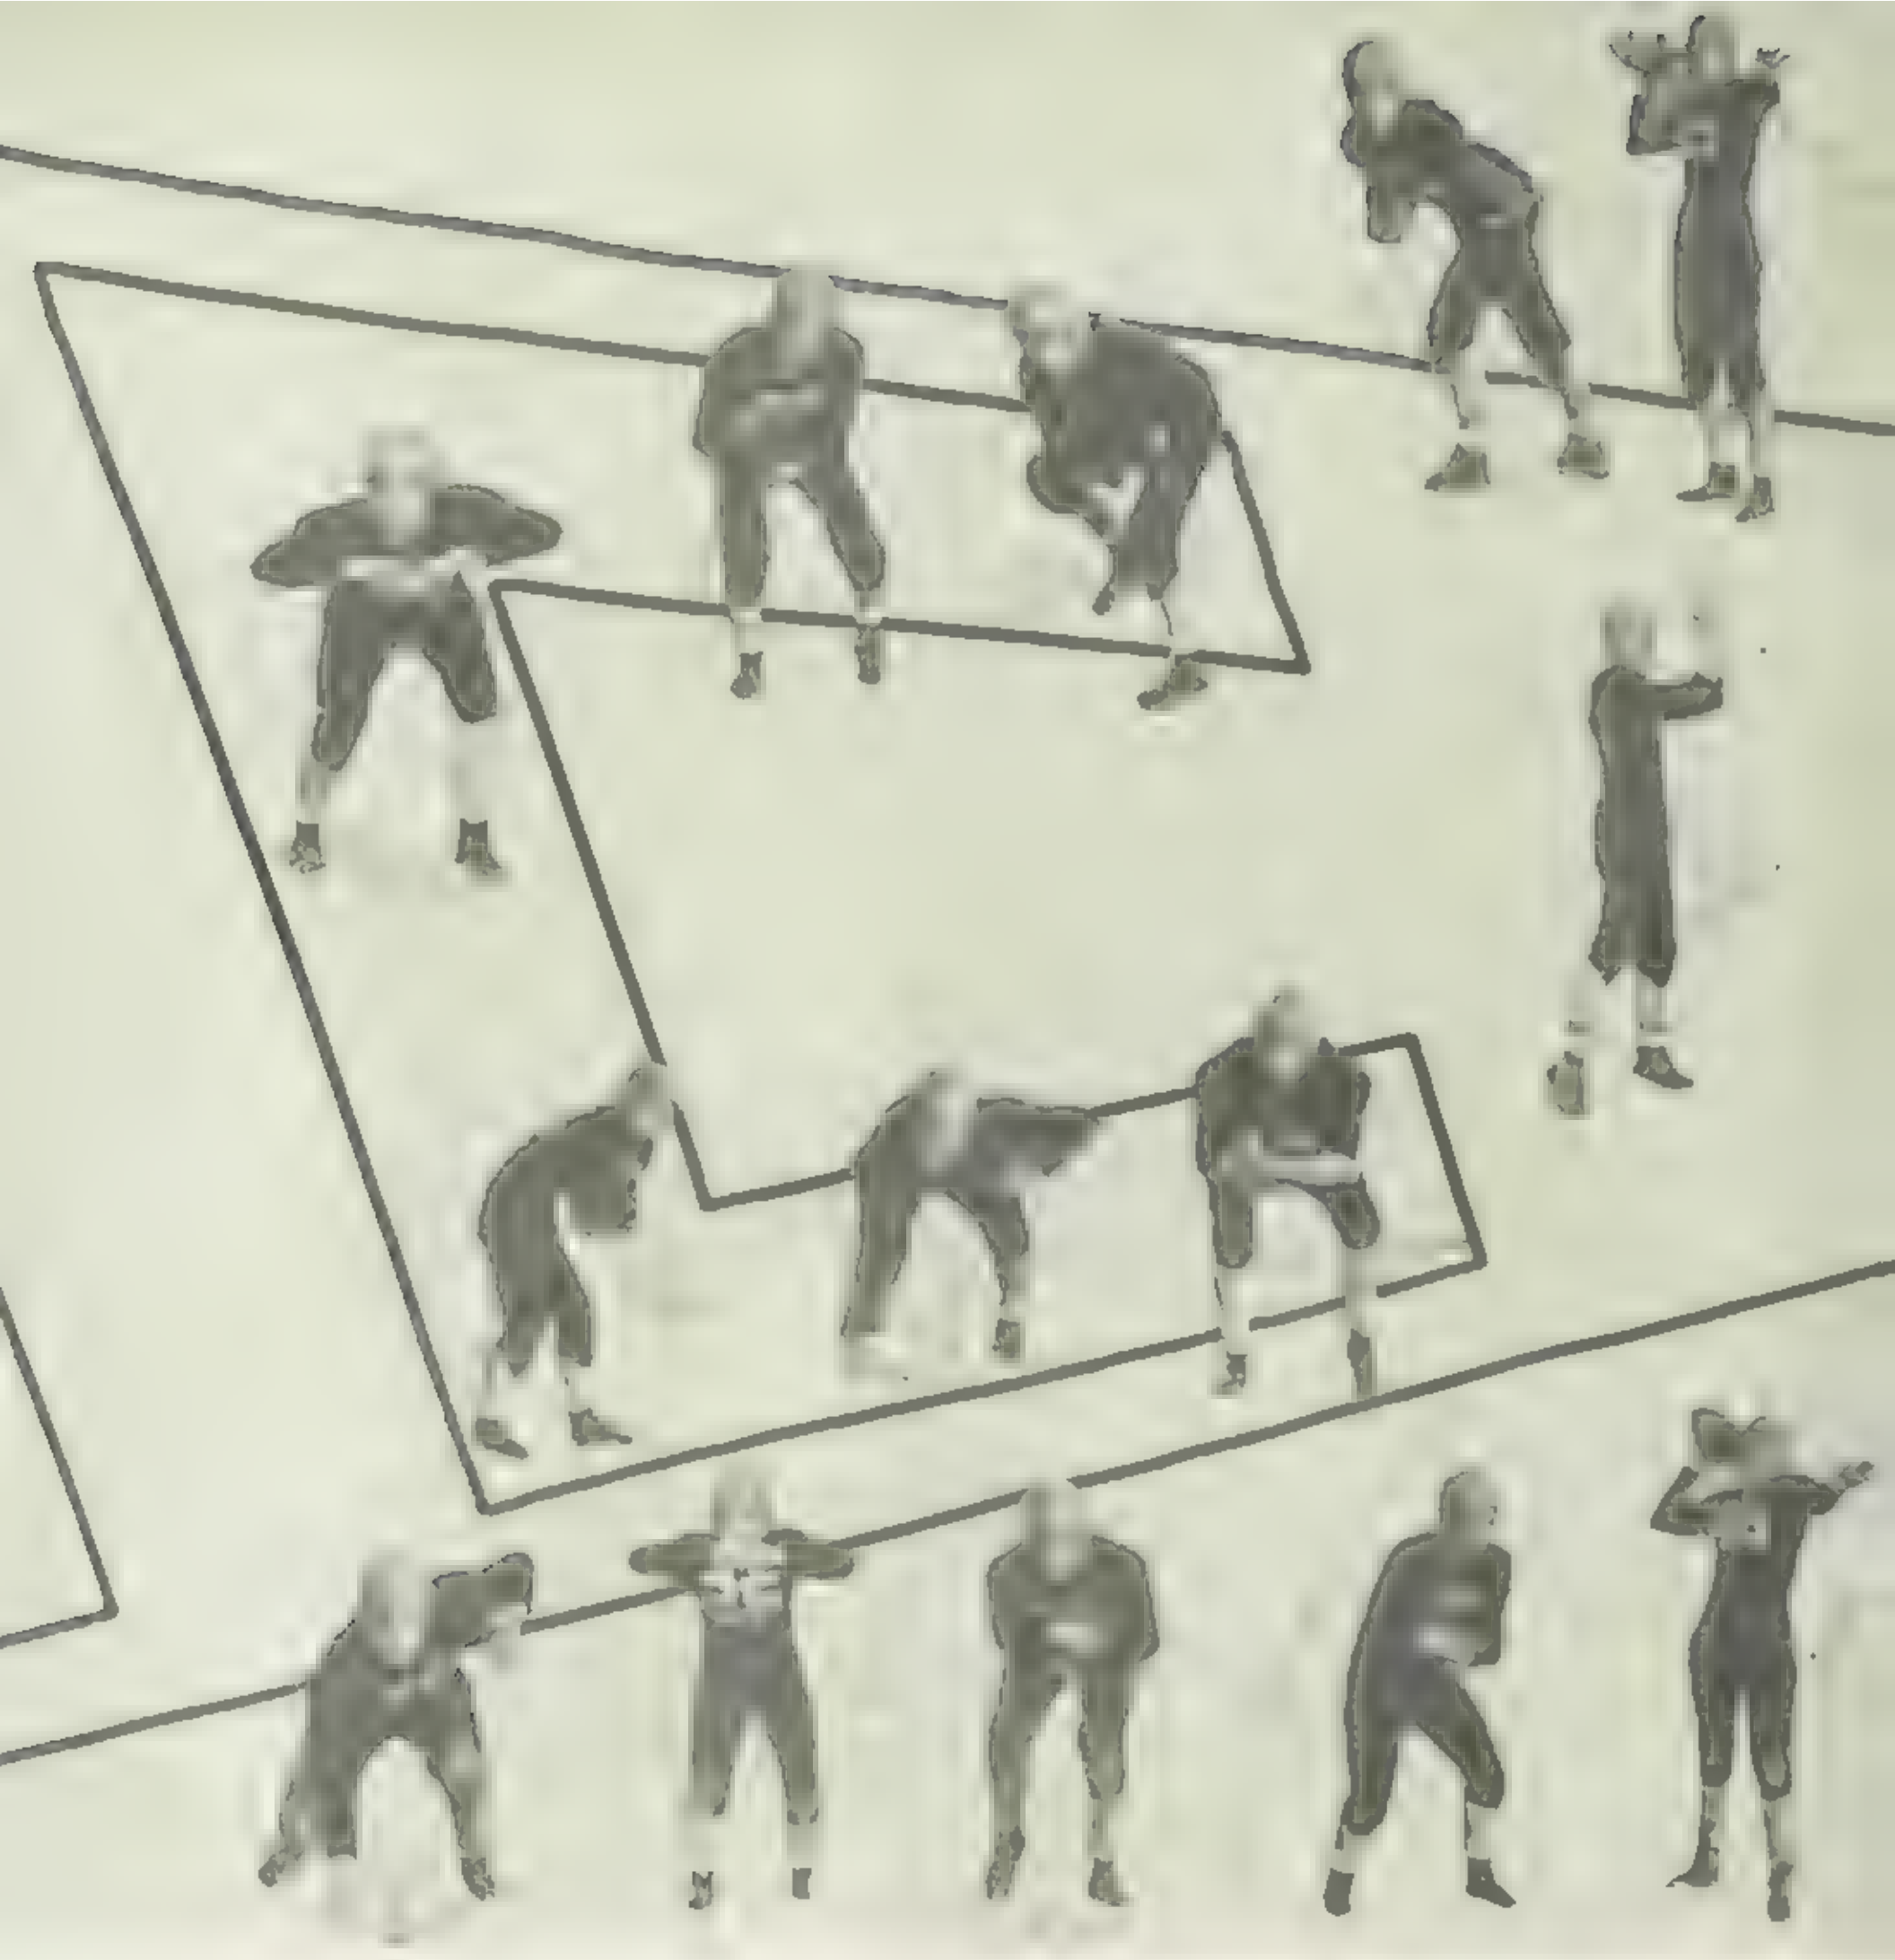

VIKINGS 27 — SPRINGFIELD 0

The Vikings rolled with surprising ease over a highly outclassed Spartan eleven for the second straight season as they rolled up a 27-point margin.

VIKINGS 57 — MANTUA 7

The Orange and Black roared to one of their most decisive victories in the past few seasons over an awed and ineffective Mantua eleven

VIKINGS 6 — ELLET 7

The Orangemen of Ellet gave the Vikings quite a jolt in the third period and the Vikings couldn't recover as they went down to their only defeat.

VIKINGS 13 — COVENTRY 0

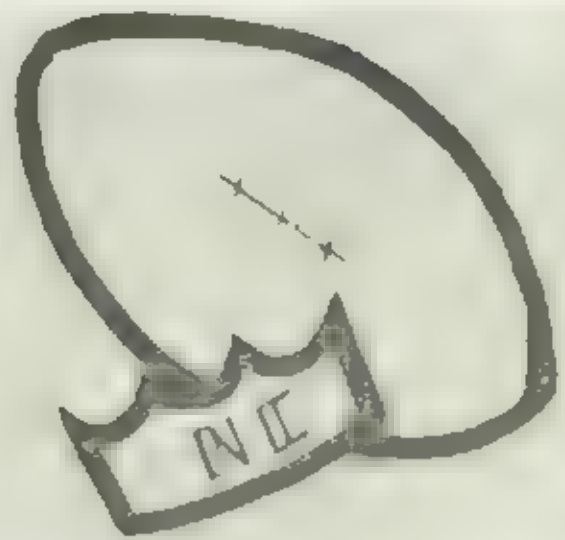

An unusually weak Comet aggregation was aided greatly by the deep snow in holding the Viking eleven to a total of only thirteen points.

VIKINGS 6 — STOW 6

The Vikings were held to a tie by the Stow eleven on a sea of mud, but they remained as runner-up to Tallmadge, the new champs.

When an American marks his X on a ballot, he can be certain of one thing. Nobody knows for whom or what he has voted. It's his secret. No one can influence or coerce him when he votes—and no one can penalize him for how he voted.

The secret ballot is one of the big secrets of a strong America. People who can vote without fear or reprisal offer little opportunity for would-be Hitlers and Stalins to take over. And while dishonesty can creep into government, the secret ballot is the one sure way honest citizens can stamp it out.

Communists would be delighted to see the secret ballot eliminated. Their kind of government doesn't succeed unless they can tell you how to vote. And after all, communism offers only one party to vote for!

We in America must make many sacrifices to combat Communist ambition. But one thing we must never sacrifice is the priceless right to think and vote according to our consciences. Nor must we ever give up any of the rights that keep this country free and independent.

Though Great Artistry Is Limited to the Few — The Pleasure and Satisfaction in a Baldwin Belong to All

Fame and fortune are not the musical goals most parents set for their children.
What is important is the increased social acceptance, personality development and constant pleasure that go along with musical ability. Love of music grows in your child as he or she is inspired by the rich tone and expressive response that has made Baldwin the choice of leading pianists.

Have a Baldwin from the beginning — see how the rewarding performance of this finest piano quickens your child's pride in his own musical achievement.
